

ABSTRACT of PULL YOUR TRIGGER

By QILAN UMARA

Life is precious. We may have different stories of how we were born but one thing for sure is we were blessed with the same gift, which is life. Therefore we shall not take this life for granted. We are are worth it, we shall make this life worth it. We all were born with a mission, it is to find our path in life. Now that you know you are worth it. You know that you deserve to be whoever you want to be. You know you deserve to reach whatever you want to reach. You have the right to dream big and achieve it. Everybody wants to be happy. Everybody wants to reach their dreams. But sometimes the problem is, we sometimes don't know what our dream exactly is. While we are young, we need to have as many experiences as possible and explore as much as we can. Through all the activities you have explored and experienced you will come to know and find that particular activity which feels to be your passion. What you want in your life.

If you still dont know what you want, the key is to keep exploring. Join as many as positive communities and make as much as experiences. You will never know if you don't try, life is too short just to sit around. Being productive is fun when you enjoy the things you are doing. Be aware guys! Because to know what your passion is. You gotta be aware of yourselves. A person might try 1000 things and have experienced 100000 activities but still don't know what his passion is. The problem is, passion will never be there if we don't bring it out. Passion is hidden deep down in your soul and the only way to dig that out is to be aware of yourself. Be aware of what you love. Being optimist is one of the keys to be able to reach success. Other than that, you need to be aware of how the world nowadays is. This world has many incredible things that make us just want to enjoy it every second of our lives.

Be aware of your comfort zone! Comfort zone is a comfortable zone that stops you from growing. Every human being grows, physically and mentally. That is why, we shall not refuse to grow because if we do it, it is just like rejecting the human nature. Trigger yourself to learn and grow more which will lead you to achieve more. Dear you, once you have found your passion and believe that everything is going to be fine as long as you work hard and find what you love doing. The next thing you need to do is make it real. Dreams are just dreams until it's done. Because we are living in the reality therefore we need to make it real.

Nothing comes easy. Everything needs process and hard work. Nothing is instant. That is why we need to work hard. We need to sweat and try our best everytime we need to. We need to give to the fullest. Work hard and harder and keep asking yourself, "have you worked hard enough?" But other than that, we also need to work smart. Opportunity knocks to the ones who notices. Therefore we need to be aware of our surrounding. We shall make the universe works along with us. Spread the optimist vibe around the universe. Life does not give everything you want, no matter how optimistic you are. Sometimes you are faced with things you are forced to love or you are forced to do for the sake of your future. Just like pressure. Pressure is painful, but that happens in this life. At work, in family, and etc.

Life often hands you a pressure. The only way to deal with it is to be strong and know that everything that happens is going to teach you lesson at the end. Dear friends, we are the millenials youth, we shall prove them that we are worth it that we are strong enough to face obstacles, we shall fight for the sake of our own future. You are the decision maker to your own life. If you want to reach your dreams, you shall let the world know that this dream of yours is worth it enough for you to fight for. At last, be discipline with your goal and be discipline with yourself. The key to maintain your success is to always be humble. Remember that no matter how successful you are, there is always gonna be someone who is more successful than you.

The world do not need anyone to be show off and arrogant, we all need to support one another, in fact you were once helped by others. That is why to be humble is very important. Never think that you are better than anyone that makes you not respect them as a person. Attitude is number one. we need to share what we have learned so far. Other than that, be willing to share. Knowledge is just knowledge until it is shared. Be the person who are willing to share, because again we don't live in this world alone. We shall learn how to share. It all starts from now, investing our time for learning. why wait so long to make it happen, if we can make an action right now. The time is now, you shall take care of your own responsibility which is to make your life worth it.
